

RATIONALE

Infertility is considered a global health problem with a strong impact worldwide. The Assisted Reproductive Technology (ART) represents a possibility for infertile patients to resolve this condition.

In order to have a complete international picture of ART application, it is important to organize scientific meetings to share and disseminate knowledge and advances in the techniques and results obtained.

AIM AND OBJECTIVES

The conference aims to promote awareness and progress of Assisted Reproductive Technology (ART) worldwide.

Presenting data from the main ART Registers working all over the world we will encourage the exchange of data and promote the best ART application.
